

A Belton Scientist must:-

Able to communicate in a variety of ways such as written or verbal explanations and through the use of diagrams.

Have excellent scientific knowledge and understanding which is developed through solving problems, testing and investigating.

Be able to apply scientific skills when undertaking practical work such as carrying out a fair test.

Be able to use scientific evidence to back up their explanations, opinions and judgements.

Be able to think independently and raise questions about working Scientifically.

Be able to show passion and curiosity for Science that is relevant now and in their life beyond school.

Be able to ask questions at a variety of stages during the investigation process in order to expand their own understanding.

Use Scientific Vocabulary

A scientist is someone who systematically gathers and uses research and evidence, to make hypotheses and test them, to gain and share understanding and knowledge.

Sciencecouncil.org